How to use your Official Hogan's Alley Scorepad

Gun-slingers take aim, and keep your pencil handy to write down your scores for "Line-up I.D." "Street Beat" and "Trick Shoot" on the Official Hogan's Alley Scorepad.

On each Official Hogan's Alley Scoresheet, you'll find spaces for your name, date of game, which game you played (A, B or C), the distance you stand away from the screen, and final score.

You can play alone to improve your marksmanship. Or you can challenge another quick-draw artist to a true test of skill. Either way, your personal score will show you whether or not you need more target practice.

NOTE: Accurate scorekeeping is a must when playing Hogan's Alley. The action is fast and the tension is high. And the best way to determine if you're a true sharpshooter is by faithfully filling out an Official Hogan's Alley Scoresheet after each game.

How to enter the Nintendo Fun Club High Score Competition

1. Fill out your name, date of game, which game you played (A, B or C), distance you stood away from the screen, and final score on an Official Scoresheet. (You must stand at least eight feet away from screen. Winners will be chosen for each of the three games in Hogan's Alley.) Circle your best scores.

2. Take a photograph of your TV screen showing your score. For best results, turn off all the lights in the room, do not use a flash, and use a 35mm camera if possible.

3. Mail both the photograph and your Official Scoresheet to:
